On June 11, 2014, the introduction of air conditioning equipment of Fujitsu General brand to the Chilean market was announced. A few days after that, a formal presentation was held with some 350 persons related to the Chilean HVAC industry. In Chile, Fujitsu General brand air conditioners are offered through its distributor Eurofred Chile that is a newly established joint venture company between a local company Comercial Tres and Fujitsu General's southern European main distributor Eurofred Group.
